

Made by C. B. SEYMOUR & CO., 101 Nassau Street, New York. Price, $1 per box, sent free by post.
[33] FOR SALE AT ALL DRUGGISTS. (6m)

W. GOLDEN & CO., sole Agents for Belleville, n, Savage & Co., wholesale agents Mon-real. 23
by all Druggists throughout the country.

ence, &c.—just printed and for sale at OFFICE.
Dr's Cherry Pectoral.

erson,
ning,
Frost,
Feb. 27, 1860.

not on hand, made at the shortest notice. All articles in this Establishment manufactured of seasoned lumber, and of the best workmanship. Farmers and others, requiring any of the above, will find it to their advantage to call on us, as we offer every opportunity offers for doing so at the lowest remunerating prices.

ERIKSS, New York, is outside wrapper sold by Druggists throughout the world Principal Office, No. 13 Cedar Street, N.Y.
PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS PER BOTTLE. 37

bearer, for the sum of $85, as there was no valun received for said note.
JOSEPH S. FITZGERALD,
Master, March 13, 1920. 213

A blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor discoloration and a faint vertical crease near the right edge. The page is set against a dark background.

[illegible]

cold renews the symptoms, and the flies to extraction for relief, not iman irritated tooth. The inflammation, in these cases that it extends to the bone, and the consequent substance of the bone, is a partial mortification. The pain at the process of exfoliation and the decay which it produces, should warn men against exposing themselves to the use of such an occurrence. It is a great crime to expose the jaw-bone to such an occurrence. It is a crime, in order, as they say, to bring head. By so doing they cause ulcers to take place through the substance of the bone, and the inflammation forced upon the whole province by the parliamentary strength of the least political party. Ruling through the instrumentalities of a majority, Ministers have no right to expect a sectional opposition. They ally themselves with Lower Canada, and Upper Canada is bound to resist them by every means in its power.

To a government thus upheld, Upper Canada really owes nothing allegiance, and were there no constitutional means of relief effort would be a duty. To that complexion matters may come at last, and perhaps only the fear of that, will induce the concessions demanded by a large majority of the Upper Canadian people. Meanwhile, let it be remembered that this government exists, this atrocious policy is perpetuated, solely by virtue of the Union. What is the Union worth to Upper Canada, that and in the decayed tooth—sealing up activity with wax to prevent the fluid creeping into the mouth. In using the greatest care must be taken allow it to touch the gums or lips.

Remedy is handled so carefully by one unacquainted with its properties, more harm than good is done. Neither the remedies, nor the magic tooth ache

th; they relieve it a time, but as the nerve is exposed, the suffering is at any time to a renewed attack. Bands of teeth which are annually saved, might be saved and rendered useful as highly ornamental for life.—A tooth is not so badly decayed, it is easily saved and made to withstand racks of misfortune for years at a very small cost.

the lost STEAMSHIP HUNGARIAN.—Mr. Kelly of the Division Avenue Ferry, Birmingham, has handed us a scrap of which was found in a bottle floating in the River Mersey. It was found in the ferry slip, on Saturday last, by a water boy who was repairing the bridge at per, in pencil, was hastily scrawled following note:

On board the Hungarian. We have the Captain says that we are lost, and, is there no hope? Now all is over, sinking rapidly. Whoever finds this please give the news to John Henry, Point, New-Jersey. God save us all!

See the note hastily breaks off. We obtained fraudulently, and that Mr. Alford had no title to whatever! We hope that the Government will make every endeavor to find out the parties who falsified the Quebec poll-books, that they may receive the reward of their bar-faced misdeeds!—Prescott Telegraph.

HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION.—The force of found as stated, am may be what sorts, the death wall of some unfortunate passenger.—N. Y. Tribune.

AUSTRIA ARMING.

think it is no secret in England that Austria is arming upon an extensive scale, and that the preparations for war are unnewhat out of humor. Hearing that his increases her army, they actually fed it to the madness or malice of Cavour; for if France should back in there will be no war, and if France, Sardinia will be crushed, whether 100,000 or 200,000 men under whilst her armament ruins not only Russia, but forces Austria likewise to chair, has been decided on. There can be no doubt of the entire fitness of the honorable and learned gentleman for the dignity; but at the present moment we should look upon his retirement from official life as a great calamity. He has filled with firmness and talent the novel positions in which he has been placed. A more popular, gifted and industrious public officer could not be found.

It is said that the Governor General intends spending the summer months at Ottawa City, and will remove there immediately after the close of the present session.

years of age, and the negro, who was a very poor and wretched-looking, and very filthy farmer. She was knocked down by the roots of the negro, and when found, she had left her, was insensible and possessed of life.

The indignation was aroused, and a number of persons, including an officer and several other men and brothers of the young woman, started in pursuit of the negro, armed with various weapons, and determined to and rode night and day until he reached Belle River, on the Great Western river, where it is supposed that he took refuge, as no further trace of him could be ascertained. It was some days before he ascertained the direction of his flight, and it was then too late to trace him on the railroad.

McNero is the same person who was and iron wheels was being used as a start the wheels of the boat from. Upon his recovery he went to the Huma settlement above-named, he remained until the commission of the.—Detroit Free Press.

having a sweet time

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor discoloration and small dark spots, possibly due to age or handling. A vertical crease is visible near the right edge, where the page is bound into a dark cover.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some faint smudges and discoloration, characteristic of old paper. The right edge of the page is dark, suggesting the binding or the next page.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor discoloration and small dark spots, possibly due to age or handling. A vertical crease is visible near the right edge, where the page is bound into a dark cover.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some faint smudges and discoloration, characteristic of old paper. The right edge of the page is bound into a dark, possibly black, cover. There is no text or other markings on the page.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some faint smudges and discoloration, characteristic of old paper. The left edge of the page is bound into a dark, possibly black, binding material. There is no text or other markings on the page.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor discoloration and a small, dark, irregular stain near the bottom center. The left edge of the page shows the binding structure, including the stitching and the inner cover material.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor discoloration and a prominent vertical tear or crease near the right edge. The page is set against a dark background.

